Home-Made Jam and Jelly Make Splendid Gifts for Christmas

This colorful assortment of jellies and jams provides novel yuletide presents.

It is the time of year when the same question is being asked many times. What to give for Christmas? The solution to this problem is simple enough. Give someone a jar of jam or jelly. It is a gift of a kind and another, in a jar, and it is a gift that the whole family of the receiver can share in the pleasure of this present.

Cookies cut in odd shapes? Lovely cakes? Certainly! Jam and jellies are even more suitable for gifts than the usual cake and cookies. They are small and can be kept indefinitely. This is a small advantage in the holiday season when friends are crowded with perishable food.

Everybody from your favorite aunt to your next-door neighbor will welcome a box containing three or six of our delicious jars of jam and jellies made from different fruits. A few minutes' preparation and the others would make the gift even more interesting. And, of course, the package can be decorated attractively with gold and silver paper, Christmas ribbons, and a sprig of holly as the final touch. For that needy family down the street such a gift is ideal.

If your jam cupboard is depleted or does not offer a suitable choice, make some jam and jelly for gift giving, using your home canned fruits. Or buy some dried, canned, or citrus fruits for the purpose. Quite a variety of delicious spreads can be made in winter with the aid of recipes such as these:

Canned Plum Jam
2 cups (1 lb.) prepared fruit
1 cup (1/2 lb.) sugar
1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) lemon juice
1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) water

To prepare fruit, drain syrup from canned fruit or any desired combination of fruits. Crush fruit well.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hot fire. Stir constantly for 10 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit peels. Stir quickly. Pour into jars, seal, and cover. Makes about 6 glasses (1/2 fluid ounces each).

Orange Jelly from Bottled Juice
1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) orange juice
1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) sugar
1/2 cup (1/4 lb.) water

Measure sugar and water into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a full rolling boil and at once add bottled fruit peels, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 10 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Pour into jars, seal, and cover. Makes about 6 glasses (1/2 fluid ounces each).

HONEST VALUES!

Honest values begin with selling products for exactly what they are. AMOCO-GAS, the original special motor fuel, sells at a premium. And is worth that premium in greater mileage—greater riding ease—and fewer repairs. ORANGE AMERICAN GAS—always sold for what it is—a regular gasoline—rates 12¢ better than U. S. Government

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C. H. R. ...

According to no less an authority than Judge W. L. Brown, there is an infinitesimal supply of full fledged carpenters in our worthy county.

When the call went out for carpenters to build the C. C. C. barracks at Spout Spring recently, they responded by the drove. Hardly an apprentice in the lot. Expert plane and cornice men by the score.

Greetings to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Babcock on their golden wedding. Reports from our private operators relate that the reception was featured by Mr. Babcock's "eccentricity" fallacies.

Now comes a request for a practical joke upon a fellow townsman. Two readers drop by to tell of a man who forgot his lameness while celebrating Christmas away from home. Well, now we all!

As is properly fitting among gentlemen, especially of the Jeffersonian persuasion, to commemorate outstanding social events by good deeds, friends of C. Douglas Almond bestowed upon him practical proofs of Auld Lang Syne this week by jovial reality of a shower.

Having moved from one domicile to another, many of his cherished belongings were lost in the rush, or something said friends figured.

An attempt was made to supplement this in part. Meritment of traditional Southern gender dominated the festivities, culminating in a yarn-telling joust in which the honoree was conspicuously one-upped. Such artists as Hiram Herbert, of Montvale, and Frank P. Graves folded their tents like the Arabs and silently went away.

Liberty Church 100 Years Old In 1934 Plans Its Centennial Committee Is Named For Event

Was Established In 1834

More than 100 newly elected officers and teachers will be installed at the morning service at Liberty church Sunday morning. Memoriam

In remembrance of our dear mother, who departed this life two years ago, Jan. 3, 1932. It has been two years ago today, but in our hearts it seems as if it were yesterday.

Dear mother, we know you are looking down upon us from above. In hearts of your dear children and many friends you are missed more and more each year. This rolls by. But now we all know you are sleeping peacefully beneath the sod where we will meet your dear sweet face on the golden Shore some great day of which we can not tell.

State Legislature To Meet Next Week With Big Program

Ferguson Leaves Next Monday

The Virginia state legislature convenes next week and public attention in the Old will be focused on affairs of the general weal.

Senator S. L. Ferguson will go to Richmond Monday, and assume a prominent part in the shaping of the legislative program.

Governor Pollard has issued an invitation to newspaper men of the state to meet Monday at the executive mansion to go over the budget to be recommended to the solons.

Projects Boom

Over twenty workmen are busy working on Civil Works projects in the town of Appomattox. These projects feature sidewalk building, street re-paving and drainage.

It will be built from Main Street to the court house.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Curtis Babcock celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, January 2, from 2:30 to 5 P. M. at their home here.

About 250 guests attended the delightful occasion. The council came in a body. J. W. Cawthon making the speech expressing the compliments of that organization. The board of stewards of the Methodist Church also attended, senator S. L. Ferguson presenting the gift and making a few remarks in which he told of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Babcock are held in the community.

The house was artistically decorated in flowers, ferns and yellow candles. The dining room was in white and gold, with a large wedding cake in the center of the table. Among those who assisted in receiving were: Mesdames Robert Babcock, Thomas Babcock, F. L. Murphy, Lloyd Cates, S. A. Lawson, Travis Lee, Ola Furush, Mary McKinney, Mesdames Janie McKinney, Thelma Morison and Louise Gills.

Millon Ball, of Lynchburg, who had been a member of the bridal party fifty years ago was among those present.

There were four generations of Babcocks represented. Little Helen May Poe, a great grand daughter, represented the fourth generation.

Mr. and Mrs. Babcock received many beautiful and useful gifts. They wish to take this means to extend their appreciation and thanks to all who contributed either by their presence or by gifts to the happiness of the occasion.

Among the letters of congratulation received was a splendid tribute from Don Moses, telling of the esteem in which the honored couple were held.

Protection

UNUSUAL conditions confront the world today. Where a sense of security formerly obtained, there now is a feeling of peril and danger. Large in individual thinking, this is an experience from time immemorial. It has been in the nature of the human mind to be inquisitive and to be inquisitive, and human experience shows that only in the nature of the spiritual stability has it been secured. When the foundations of protection are in matter, it is subject to change and other vicissitudes, carrying a measure of fear, anxiety, and foreboding.

Protection is ordinarily regarded as a prerogative of human beings, a sense of well-being, a feeling of security, a feeling of safety, a feeling of peace, a feeling of happiness, a feeling of contentment, a feeling of satisfaction, a feeling of fulfillment, a feeling of achievement, a feeling of accomplishment, a feeling of success, a feeling of triumph, a feeling of glory, a feeling of
